

Whales (Animals)

Provides an introduction to the whale, covering its physical characteristics, habits, prey, and relationship to humans.

There are an incredible amount of different species of whale and they all have their own unique identities and characteristics! Check out some fun facts below

Whales are divided into two groups: toothed and baleen. There are 69 toothed whale species, including sperm whales, beluga whales, and narwhals. The humpback whale is one of the bigger species of whale with the average adult humpback whale measuring more than 15m long (thats still

Follow the global migrations of this massive mammal. Hear the whales talea stirring comeback that saw them removed from the U.S. endangered species list.

Blue whale, (Balaenoptera musculus), also called sulfur-bottom whale, the most massive animal ever to have lived, a species of baleen whale that weighs

Sperm whales heads are filled with a mysterious substance called spermaceti. Scientists have yet to understand its function, but believe it may help the animal

Whales and dolphins, also known as cetaceans, are known for their high intelligence, complex societies and peaceful personalities its noThey are the largest species of whale. Toothed whales have teeth and prey on fish, squid, other whales and marine mammals. They sense their surrounding

Whales, dolphins and porpoises are cetaceans - aquatic mammals. There are about 80 species of whales, dolphins and porpoises with 10 of those in the waters - 4 min

Blue whales are the largest animals to have ever existed. Learn why theyre larger than any

The Blue Whale is the largest animal ever to have lived on earth. Their tongues alone can weigh as much as an elephant - their hearts, as much as a car. - 4 min - Uploaded by BBC Earth

Male humpback whales repeat each others songs and add to them so they become ever more

Whales are a widely distributed and diverse group of fully aquatic placental marine mammals. Some species, such as sperm whales, are well adapted for diving to great depths to catch squid and other favoured prey. Whales have evolved

Blue whales are the largest animals ever known to have lived on Earth. These magnificent marine mammals rule the oceans at up to 100 feet

See how this unique white whale is ahead of other whales by a neck. Just dont expect

The beluga, or white whale, is one of the smallest species of whale.

The blue whale (Balaenoptera musculus) is a marine mammal belonging to the baleen whale

The blue whale is usually classified as one of eight species in the genus Balaenoptera one authority places it in a separate monotypic genus, Balaenoptera musculus, the blue whale, is the largest animal ever known to have lived on the planet movie monsters aside. Even at birth it is

There are over 80 species of whales, dolphins, and porpoises included in the Order Cetacea.